

Number of Children in India (0-17 years)
orphaned
due to all causes, estimated at 25,700,000 !!!
(*"UNICEF" India Statistics)

Doesn't the above piece of information bother you? Somewhere in the midst of our busy lives and hectic schedules we forget that there is a section of our society that does not feel as privileged as we do. One such segment of society is orphaned children. Though lot of efforts are made by the Government, Private NGO's and individuals to provide support to orphaned children the efforts clearly aren't enough.

Sri Krishna Anatha Shishu Nivas (Regd), is an initiative dedicated to the cause of bringing up orphaned children. We provide them with basic needs of living and education facilities. We also believe in honing their skills and talents to ensure that they turn out to be responsible citizens of our country.

At present there are 53 orphans (32 boys and 21 girls) under our care. The orphanage receives a Govt. aid of Rs 8/- per day per child. However this is not sufficient and the expenses on educating and nurturing them are borne by the organization itself with the help of benevolent donors. Also efforts have to be made to improve the infrastructure of the orphanage by setting up of beds and cots, cupboards and furniture for which the organization requires funding.

The organization is headed by International Award winner Professor .T. Keshava Bhat (President) National Award Winner for Child Welfare Sri M.U Kannaiah is the Secretary of the organization. We at Sri Krishna Anatha Shishu Vihar, hope to make a difference in the lives of those children who are deprived of parental love. We cannot bring back what they have lost, but through our support and care we hope to bring a smile on their face and a difference in their lives. We require your help and support to make their dreams come true.
